The Fisheries.

We've fairly flung our gauntlet
At haughty England's feet,
But we've got a little wantlet:
We rather need a fleet.

To slaughter foes defiant
Of course is only fun,
But we'd feel more self-reliant
If we only had a gun.

We are strong; war's but a play for Us; we've men wealth, cities grand
(By the way, towns would be safer
Moved a little bit inland.)

We are talking! Fixed our course is;
Let each vaunting nation heed;
For forts, fleet, guns and forces
Are the only things we need.
—Chicago Tribune.

The Minister's Ruse.

A late reverend gentleman of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., who was as well-known for his eccentricity as his talents, one day sent his son, a lazy lad about 12 years of age, to catch his horse. The lad went sauntering along, with an ear of corn in one hand and the bridle in the other, dragging the reins along the ground.

"Thomas," said the father, calling after him in a very solemn tone of voice; "come here, Thomas, I want to say a word to you before you go."

The lad returned and the parson proceeded:

"You know, Thomas, that I gave you a great deal of counsel. You know that I have taught you, before closing your eyes, to say, 'Now I lay me down to sleep,' etc., besides a good many other things in way of explanation and advice. But this is the last opportunity I may ever have of speaking to you. I couldn't let it pass without giving you my parting charge. Be a good boy and always say that pretty prayer before going to sleep. I fear I shall never see you again."

As he said this in a very sad and solemn manner, the poor boy began to be frightened and burst into tears with the exclamation:

"You'll never see me again, pa?"

"No; for I shall die before you get back with the horse."

This quickened Thomas' ideas, and gathering up the bridle reins he ran and caught the horse quicker than he had ever done before.

Active, Pushing and Reliable.

E. Wegner can always be relied upon to carry in stock the purest and best goods, and sustain the reputation of being active, pushing and reliable, by recommending articles with well established merit and such as are popular. ### Gambetta's Duel with M. De Fourtou.

In the career of a French politician or journalist a duel is obligatory. Even Gambetta had to fight. The reader may remember the duel with pistols which took place at Plessis-Piquet, on the plain of Chatillion, in November, 1878, between Gambetta and the Bonapartist minister M. De Fourtou. The adversaries exchanged pistol shots without effect, and an American humorist wrote a comic account of the lethal meeting for the amusement of his countrymen. However, in spite of Mr. Mark Twain's droll satire, this duel was perfectly serious. The testimony of M. Clemenceau and M. Allain-Targe, who were the seconds of Gambetta, of M. Robert Mitchell and M. Blin de Bourdon, who were the seconds of M. De Fourtou, and the testimony of M. Ranc, of Dr. Lannelongue, and of all the friends of Gambetta, is sufficient to establish that fact.

The cause of the duel was an exclamation of Gambetta during the sitting of the Chamber of Deputies on November 18, 1878—"It is a lie!" ("C'est un mensonge, M. le Ministre!") These words were addressed to M. De Fourtou, who was making a speech to the Chamber. To say that this exclamation was premeditated would perhaps be going too far; it would be truer to say that Gambetta seized the opportunity of uttering it with joy; he was only waiting for an occasion to pick a quarrel. For some time past the violence of the Bonapartists had been increasing; their insults in the press had been growing more and more virulent; and during one of his speeches Gambetta had been interrupted by M. Paul de Cassagnac nearly a hundred times. It was in order to put a stop to this abuse and interruption that Gambetta determined to fight a duel with a prominent member of the Bonapartist party. It was necessary to secure his political position, as Gambetta himself said, when his friends reproached him for thus risking his life. And in point of fact the duel had the desired effect; it gained the respect of the Bonapartists.

Thanks to the courtesy of M. Clemenceau, I am able to give for the first time the true and faithful history of this duel. After giving the lie to M. De Fourtou, Gambetta left the sitting, and went to look for M. Clemenceau, in the lobbies of the Chamber. Gambetta asked Clemenceau to act as his second, but the latter refused, not caring to accept the responsibility of such an affair, for, naturally, had anything serious happened to Gambetta, the seconds would have to bear the brunt of public blame. However, Gambetta insisted. "If you refuse," he said to M. Clemenceau. "I shall not be able to find a single man to serve as my second. Theirs fought a duel. I must fight too." Finally M. Clemenceau accepted, and it was he who arranged the whole affair, charged the pistols, and gave the word of command—"Feu! un, deux, trois!" The adversaries were placed at a distance of thirty paces in an open space on the plain of Chatillion, where there was neither tree nor house nor any object in sight of importance enough to guide the aim: the silhouettes of the combatants stood out against a perfectly clear sky, for the report that the duel was fought in a fog is untrue; the pistols were charged with the regular quantity of powder and with regular bullets by M. Clemenceau himself. M. Clemenceau chose pistols as the arms of his principal, for the simple reason that he did not consider Gambetta to have sufficient agility to fight with swords. As for distance, M. Clemenceau had at first proposed thirty-five paces, but the seconds of M. De Fourtou suggested thirty. Gambetta himself would have fought at five or ten paces had his seconds ordered him to do so; but there was an excellent reason for separating the adversaries by as great a distance as possible, namely, the fact that Gambetta was a very large man and M. De Fourtou a slender man. Now supposing the adversaries fired at a distance of five paces, the slender man would have a larger target than the large man; at ten paces the slender man's chances would be lessened, and so on; the greater the distance between the combatants, the more equal the chances became, as far as concerned the target to be aimed at. Now it being one of the chief duties of the seconds to equalize the chances of the combatants, and to compensate for each one's advantage or disadvantage, M. Clemenceau was right in demanding thirty-five paces and accepting thirty. It has, I know, been objected that the pistols ordinarily used in dueling will not carry thirty paces. In reply to this objection I may cite a duel fought in 1878 between M. De la Rochette, a Conservative Deputy, and M. Laisant, a Deputy of the Left. The arms were pistols; the distance thirty-five paces. M. De la Rochette was struck in the thigh by a ball which had force enough to transpierce him and he died shortly afterward of his wounds. M. Laisant was struck in the reigon of the heart, and his life was only saved by the floating of his overcoat in the wind, which deadened the impetus of the bullet. As M. Clemenceau, who has fought his share of duels, and acted as second in more than twenty affairs of honor, told me, when you see the muzzle of a loaded pistol pointed at you, even at a distance of thirty-five paces, it seems unpleasantly near.

Throughout the duel Gambetta acted with perfect coolness. On the eve of the engagement M. Clemenceau gave him some hints as to the correct manner of using his arm and aiming. The next morning, when he went to carry him to the rendezvous, he found Gambetta sitting at his window and calmly shooting with a revolver at the sparrows in his garden. While they were riding out to Plessis-Piquet, Gambetta wished to smoke, but M. Clemenceau prevented him, saying tobacco would make his hand unsteady. Gambetta's first words, when the duel was over, were, "Ah! now I'll light up a cigar."—THEODORE CHILDS in Harper's Magazine for March.

Russian Soldiers' Pay.

Although he has partially to feed himself, the Russian linesman's pay and mess allowances are extraordinary small, says a writer in a London paper. His pay equals only half a farthing a day in time of peace and half as much again in time of war; and his mess allowance, which seldom rises above three half pence, is intended to be sufficient to enable him to supply himself with one-third of a pound of meat on each of the 196 days of the year on which the consumption of flesh is permitted by the orthodox religion. Of course he cannot live solely on this. The Government, therefore, gives him daily, about two pounds of flour, a quarter of a pound of pearled barley and a little salt together with fuel and light; and, thus furnished, the linesman not only bakes his own bread and biscuit, but provides himself with a maddening beverage called kvas, which he cunningly prepares from the flour and leaven. Only in time of war does he get spirits from the government which, in that eventuality, also gives him his meat when he is not in position to buy it. It cannot, upon the whole, be said that the Russian linesman is very handsomely remunerated for his services as a private, yet he has always before his eyes the hope of promotion. He may become a lance corporal at 8s. 2d., a senior non-commissioned officer at 14s. 9d., or a seargent major at £3 17s. 3d. a year; or he may even get a commission as a company officer and receive his 27s. or 31s a week. But he cannot expect ever to attain a high rate of pay, for an infantry colonel in Russia receives only £210 a year in peace and a full general has to support his dignity as best he can on £300 unless he be appointed to command a division, in which case he receives £315 a year as table money; or unless there be war, when, in the most favorable circumstances his total endowment may amount to as much as £920.

At a recent convention of physicians it was proven by analysis that Red Star Cough Cure contained no dangerous narcotics. The test was so convincing that the most sceptical were satisfied, and physicians everywhere now recommend the remedy. Only 25 cents.

The fourth case of successful removal of a tumor of the brain has been reported in England, the weight of the tumor being four and a half ounces. These cases of brain surgery, with the exact location from the symptoms of the spot affected, are feats of which science may well be proud.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself and superior to all other preparations in strength economy and medicinal merit.

It has been discovered in France that the fatty matter of wool may be transformed into a substance which has been named "ceroid" having the consistency and several properties of wax.

CORRECT, AS USUAL.

THE Santa Rosa papers have time and again taken exceptions to the course of the INDEX-TRIBUNE in regard to W. H. Orr and his wildcat railroad scheme. Recent developments, however, justify the course pursued by this paper in the matter of the Santa Rosa and Benicia Central Railroad, so-called, and prove our surmises to have been correct. We hope the lesson will be a wholesome one to our esteemed contemporaries, and that they will henceforth use a little more caution in matters of this kind. The only fault of the Santa Rosa press in this matter was, that unlike the INDEX-TRIBUNE, it lacked the spirit and back bone, to point out the inconsistencies of the project, which certainly must have been patent to them, for fear of antagonizing a number of the leading men of this county who had been wheedled and cajoled into its support by an adventurer.

VERY SLIGHT, INDEED.

THE San Francisco Examiner in a recent issue speaks of W. M. Orr of the S. R. & B. C. R. R. as a rascally fraud, a traveling fakir, an adventurer and the biggest bilk since Paraf's time. And that individual in a card published in that journal last Thursday designates these terms as a slight reflection on his character. Great Cæsar! This reminds us of the little story about the darkey who, while walking upon a railroad track (not Orr's by the way) one dark night was run down by an engine and thrown about fifty feet into the air. Jumping up and shaking himself he exclaimed: "Who dat hit me? Whar dat lantern?" Like Sambo, small things do not appear to disconcert Mr. Orr.

CAUSE FOR CONGRATULATION.

IN view of the expose made in Monday's Examiner of W. H. Orr of the Santa Rosa and Benicia Central Railroad Company, the people of Sonoma Valley have cause to congratulate themselves that they refused to be flattered, coaxed or bulldozed into the support of a scheme which has proved so mortifying to those business men of Santa Rosa who permitted themselves to be ensnared by the molasses which flowed from Mr. Orr's double-jointed back-action fly-trap.

AS A HEALTH RESORT.

There is no part of the State equal to ours as a health resort, as we combine both air, wind and water—our air being the most salubrious in the State, our breezes generally from the balmy south, and our water, especially the warm springs on the different Agua Caliente ranches, contains everything that a doctor does not desire—perfect health to those who dip therein.

HENRY WARD BEECHER, pastor of Plymouth Church, died in New York City at half-past nine o'clock Sunday morning. He was one of the most eloquent divines of modern times, and his intellectual qualities were of the highest order.

THE city election in Sacramento came off last Tuesday and resulted in a sweeping majority for the Republicans. They elected their entire ticket by majorities ranging from 1200 to 1500.

LET US PUSH AHEAD.

ARE we or are we not to have our boom? It has been tried several times to extend the knowledge of our exports to many parts of the United States, and also to sections of the Old World. To thoroughly undertake the dissemination of knowledge of what our portion of Sonoma county can produce it must not be left to one or two individuals. We think that other portions of the county have been advertised at our expense, owing to the unwillingness of our people to join in, so as to show the value of our lands and our products. Now we propose that Glen Ellen and the entire Sonoma Valley combine to make an exhibit at the forthcoming Mechanics' Fair, so that we can show what our portion of Sonoma county can produce, and thus make it aware to Eastern visitors that this county does not simply consist of Santa Rosa, Petaluma, Healdsburg and Cloverdale. We willingly admit the desirability of these localities for the location of immigrants and in no way say anything detrimental to their merits. But for our part of the county we claim that settlers can find no place more advantageous.

Our wines have sold this season at from 40 cents to $1 per gallon, and not in small lots but in quantities of 8000, 9000 and 10,000 gallons and upwards. Of course the higher rate was for lots under a thousand gallons. Mrs. C. C. Carriger has shipped large quantities of oranges to San Francisco recently, and they are pronounced to be equal in flavor and size to any in the market from Riverside or elsewhere. Mrs. Jas. Shaw of Glen Ellen has this week forwarded to the San Francisco and North Pacific Railroad Company exhibits of citrus fruits that will compare favorably with those grown in any other section of the State. The oranges and lemons in this exhibit are particularly worthy of mention, being more than equal to some we saw some years ago imported from the ill-fated island of Ischia. We can conscientiously state that our clarets have been pronounced by New York importers the best produced in the United States, and more than equal in quality to those imported from France.

We do not wish to create a fictitious boom for Sonoma and Glen Ellen, but we can emphatically state that a windmill will not go without wind, and that nothing can be done to advertise this section without means. If those who will aid the advancement of our section of Sonoma county by contributing their products, and there are many such in our midst, should in turn be assisted to defray expenses of an exhibit by public subscriptions a display could be made that would equal if not surpass that of any other section of the State. We therefore urge upon all interested in the welfare and future prosperity of Sonoma Valley to join in with the Glen Ellen people and aid with subscriptions or contributions of produce. Vis dat qui cito dat! Because we have to take a space at the Mechanics' Pavilion in August.

What is required is grapes of all kinds, raisins (if possible), wines of all varieties, specimens of the different varieties of vines, including resistant stocks; dried fruits, pickles, jams, jellies, cheeses, green fruits of all kinds, vegetables, grasses, grains in bottles, melons, cucumbers, specimens of woods of native growth, varieties of soils, rocks and minerals, sheafs of grains, wools of all grades, leather, or any other product of our part of the county.

Everything will be transported by the railroad company to the Mechanics' Institute gratis, and all awards will be accredited to individual exhibiters.

In order to carry out this plan successfully we would suggest that a meeting be called of our citizens at an early date and a committee appointed to solicit and receive subscriptions and attend to all exhibits.

BOOM SONOMA.

What a Recent City Visitor Has to Say About Us.

[From an Occasional Correspondent.]

Mr. EDITOR: Getting up booms seems to be the order of the day just now. What is the matter up your way, are your people going to let the beautiful and prolific Sonoma Valley go by unnoticed by the many Eastern visitors that are daily coming to this State looking up homes, principally on account our glorious climate? Is there a county in this State that can excel yours in this particular? The land is adapted to all kinds of grain, fruit trees of every description mature rapidly, and as for its grape culture the many thousand gallons of choice wines that are yearly made speaks for itself. To the invalid I would say, that all through Sonoma county are to be found medicinal springs of many kinds and with the life-giving properties of the mildest of climates; streams running full of that choicest of fish, the mountain trout; the hills abounding with game, from the top-knotted quail to the fleet-footed deer and scenery of the grandest, the sick and despondent soon become joyous and healthful.

Now, a word for the old and historic town of Sonoma. This has a very unattractive appearance to strangers and its neglected appearance is calculated to discourage settlement within its corporate limits and environments. But I understand your Plaza is to be converted into a beautiful park and other improvements are projected which, when carried out, will make Sonoma one of most attractive of our inland cities. I think your suggestion, Mr. Editor, to get up an entertainment to assist the Trustees in the good work thus began, an excellent one. Let this be done by all means. Let each and every one do their very best to make it a grand, financial success. Place the tickets in the hands of energetic people and see to it that every body purchases one or more.

Business men of Sonoma. Stand back no longer. Get up a boom. Invite strangers to visit your magnificent valley and throw out some inducements for them to make their homes with you. C.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7, 1887.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From Our Regular Correspondent.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28, 1887.

The sensation of the week at the Capital was the attempt and failure in the House of Representatives to pass the Dependent Pension bill over the President's veto. Crowds of spectators filled the galleries and the debate, which was quite interesting, at times became exciting by interruptions, personalities and stinging retorts. There was much noise and confusion and the scenes upon the floor were such as have not within a long while been witnessed there. Three hundred members were present at the time the vote was taken, and 200 affirmative votes were therefore necessary to pass the bill over the veto. But the final vote was 175 yeas to 125 nays, which showed that 29 Democrats had changed their votes since the bill originally passed.

To what extent this veto by the President and the support given him by the House will enter as elements into the great political campaigns of the coming year cannot be clearly predicted, but that these points will be worked for all they are worth by the leaders of the Republican party admits of little doubt. It was a right courageous act on the part of the President to veto this bill, knowing the hostile sentiment that it would arouse against him throughout the country. It is conceded that the Democrats also who first voted for the measure and then determined to sustain the President, exhibited a good deal of courage, although it will be charged in the case of some of the Northern members who changed their votes that their motives were not wholly disinterested.

Hon. S. S. Cox, the New York Congressman, who has been quite ill ever since New Year, left his room for the first time to be driven to the Capitol so that he might vote to sustain the President's veto. He looked wan and worn and required the aid of a strong cane in moving about the floor. He entered the Hall quietly and almost unnoticed, so that when his name was announced in the roll-call and his voice responded "No," everybody looked up in surprise. In a moment he was surrounded by his colleagues who were disposed to subject him to a more vigorous hand-shaking than his weak condition justified.

President Cleveland was the first to learn that the Pension bill had been defeated. Before the roll-call had been completed Speaker Carlisle handed a small piece of paper to his clerk who was waiting, and who rushed immediately for the telegraph office in the corridor. Immediately the instrument was ticking, and before the reading clerk had finished reading the list, and before the vote had been announced in the House, the President in the Executive Mansion knew that his veto had been sustained.

Work is accumulating with great rapidity upon the President's hands as the Congressional session draws to a close. He remains at his desk long into the night examining bills and transacting other business. His determination last year not to go the Capitol during the last hours to hurriedly sign bills which he had not been permitted to examine gave great satisfaction then, and he will doubtless adhear to the same course at the approaching adjournment. The best men in Congress of both sides thoroughly approved of his resolve not to make laws by affixing his name to measures which he had no chance to learn anything about.

The President has said in the last few days that he did not see any special necessity for calling an extra session of the Fiftieth Congress, though it is possible he may ask the Senate, which is a permanently organized body, to remain in session beyond the fourth day of March. There are some important nominations he wants to submit but which he is not sure he will have time to decide upon before the end of this session. Among them are the Interstate Commerce nominations and those for Secretary of the Treasury and United States Treasurer.

The question has arisen as to the President's power to appoint the Interstate Commerce Commissioners after the adjournment of the Senate. Some of the Senators argue that the Constitution does not empower the Executive to appoint, during vacation, to a newly created office which is to be filled by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. Others hold that there is no difference between filling a new office and a vacancy that may occur during a vacation of the Senate, and that there are decisions by Attorney-Generals covering the point.

DYSPEPSIA

Causes its victims to be miserable, hopeless, confused and depressed in mind, very irritable, languid, and drowsy. It is a disease which does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy to throw off the causes and tone up the digestive organs till they perform their duties willingly. Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven just the required remedy in hundreds of cases.

"I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla for dyspepsia, from which I have suffered two years. I tried many other medicines, but none proved so satisfactory as Hood's Sarsaparilla." THOMAS COOK, Brush Electric Light Co., New York City

Sick Headache

"For the past two years I have been afflicted with severe headaches and dyspepsia. I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and have found great relief. I cheerfully recommend it to all." MRS. E. F. ANNABLE, New Haven, Conn.

Mrs. Mary C. Smith, Cambridgeport, Mass., was a sufferer from dyspepsia and sick headache. She took Hood's Sarsaparilla and found it the best remedy she ever used.

How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

Gaman & Lyon, 339 Kearny street, San Francisco. *

Benjamin Read, the seventeen-year-old son of Edward Read, died in San Francisco, Tuesday, from the effects of a surgical operation performed on him by surgeons in that city on the previous Sunday. He had been a sufferer for years from stone in the bladder and as a last resort it was decided to have an operation performed and a stone weighing four ounces was removed. The shock to the young man's system, however, was too great and despite every effort to save him, he sank rapidly after the operation and expired forty-eight hours thereafter. Deceased was buried at this place Thursday.

A meeting of citizens and a committee from the Clay Literary Society was held at Union Hall, last Thursday evening, to discuss the forthcoming entertainment for the benefit of the Plaza Fund. B. F. Campbell presided. It was decided to give the entertainment on Wednesday evening, April 13th. After appointing the following committees the meeting adjourned to come together again at the call of the chair: Committee on Music—Mrs. H. H. Granice, Dr. L. B. Lawrence and B. F. Campbell. Committee on Printing—Messrs. Lawrence and Raschen. Ticket Agent—Ed. Wegner. Treasurer—John Tivnen. Outside Doorkeeper—U. P. Vallejo. Inside Doorkeeper—H. C. Manuel.

GOOD NEWS.

The Railroad Connection with Novato and Napa Junction to be Made.

The Contract to be Let on the 21st Inst., and the Work Rushed Through to Completion.

Hon. J. K. Luttrell, having informed us that Col. Donahue had stated to him personally that that gentleman was soon to commence the construction of the much-needed connection with Novato and Napa Junction, on Wednesday last, Mr. Henry Weyl of this place, a merchant of sagacity and means, on behalf of the citizens of this valley and as the accredited representative of the INDEX-TRIBUNE, interviewed Col. Donahue in regard to the matter. That gentleman was found in his office at 410 Mission street, and received our representative with marked respect. To him, Mr. Donahue stated that it was a fact that the connection would be made, and that the contract for constructing a draw-bridge across Petaluma Creek and building a broad or standard gauge road over the proposed route would be let on the 21st of this month. Col. Donahue also promised that if he (Mr. Weyl) succeeded in obtaining the right of way over a certain small section of the route, which, no doubt, will be an easy matter, work will be commenced within five days after the letting of the contract and will be pushed through to rapid completion.

In view of the immense benefits that will accrue to the people of Sonoma Valley by the building of a broad gauge road through this section it is with the greatest of rejoicing that we feel justified in publishing this piece of news. A connection with Novato and Napa Junction means every thing to us—it means wealth, prosperity and a boom that will astonish the Rip Van Winklians who have so long slumbered in our midst. This connection will bring us within one hour and three-quarters of San Francisco with two trains daily. It will enable us to put our wines and produce on the cars at any of the stations in the valley and ship directly East or to any of the important cities or towns on this side of the Rocky Mountains. The benefits to be derived from this are inestimable. It will place Sonoma Valley in the front rank of the valleys of this State and make us known far and wide.

By the construction of the proposed route, Col. Donahue will have done much for our people, and they should not be lacking in appreciation of his enterprise and public spirit. The right of way has already been secured with one exception, and we have every reason to believe that this will be secured the coming week. No one can afford to obstruct this great enterprise by a selfish or niggardly policy. The right of way should be freely accorded that one of the greatest enterprises ever inaugurated in this valley should be allowed to proceed unhindered.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL.

Mrs. H. Harmon of Santa Rosa is visiting the Misses Pauli.

Mr. C. Aguillon, who has been quite ill for several weeks, is now up and around.

Mrs. Jno Lewis returned from the city last Sunday after an absence of several weeks.

Henry Hahman of Santa Rosa came down to attend the funeral of Dr. Pauli, Wednesday.

Mrs. Fannie McG. Martin, Superintendent of Common Schools, paid Sonoma a visit, this week, on official business. The lady also favored this office with a visit.

Mr. Henry Winkle, the well-known vineyardist, celebrated his sixty-ninth birthday last Thursday by entertaining a large number of his friends at his home near this place.

A delightful reception was given to Mr. and Mrs. A. Sperry, late of Australia, at the residence of John O'Brien, on Saturday last. After a very enjoyable dinner was served, the guests entered the parlor, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion, and a very pleasant afternoon was spent.

An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Sheperd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnicia Salve, and my leg is now sound and well." Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklin's Arnicia Salve at 25c. per box by Ed. Wegner. 5

Death of a Prominent Citizen.

Dr. F. A. Pauli, an old and respected citizen, died at his home in this place on Monday afternoon last at about half past five o'clock. His death, although not unexpected, shocked the entire community, as only a day or two before his demise he arose from a sick bed to which he had been confined for many weeks, and taking advantage of the fine weather, ventured out into his garden and was seen strolling about admiring the early Spring flowers which were so soon after to be woven into funeral wreaths to deck the casket which held his mortal remains. Dr. Pauli had been an invalid for several months and on the day of his death, while reclining in an easy chair in his sitting room was suddenly seized with hemorrhage of the lungs and peacefully passed away in the presence of his grief-stricken family.

The deceased was born in Hamburg, Germany, in 1831 and was, therefore, 55 years of age at the time of his death. When a young man he attended the Heidelberg University, one of the most celebrated institutions of learning in the German Empire. Graduating, he practiced law in his native city for several years. In 1857 he came to California and immediately upon his arrival located in Sonoma Valley and engaged in the business of farming in partnership with his brother, the late G. T. Pauli, ex-County Treasurer, who had preceded him to this country several years. Subsequently, in company with Lewis Adler, he purhased the Yulupa rancho, situated about ten miles west of Sonoma. but tiring of a farmer's life he sold out his interests here, and in 1860 went to the State of Nevada to engage in silver mining. Being unsuccessful, at the expiration of two years, he returned to Sonoma and entered into merchandising and has ever since been one of our active business men. The deceased, at the time of his death, was one of the Trustees of the Sonoma School District, an old and honored member of Sonoma Lodge, No 28, I. O. O. F. and also belonged to the Order of Chosen Friends.

The funeral of the deceased took place on Wednesday afternoon under the auspices of the Sonoma Odd Fellows. Between forty and fifty members of the order escorted the remains to the cemetery, the funeral procession being one of the largest witnessed in Sonoma for many years. Arriving at the cemetery the beautiful funeral services of the Odd Fellows were said over the remains amid the sobbing of his widow, his four fatherless children and the tear-dimmed eyes and bowed heads of a host of friends.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER, will make them as free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness. Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of AUGUST FLOWER will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it. 1

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

MONDAY, March 7, 1887.

The Board of Supervisors in and for the county of Sonoma, met in regular monthly session at Santa Rosa, Monday, March 7th, a 10:30 A. M. Present Supervisors Coulter, Connolly, Allen, Davis, John O'Harra presiding. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The time of the Board up to the noon adjournment was occupied with the examination of Road Overseers' bills.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Board reconvened at 1 o'clock, all members present.

The examination of Road Overseers' reports was resumed. The following were received and placed on file, and the accompanying bills allowed:

|---|---|
| Gallant Rains, Petaluma road district | $429 09 |
| E. F. O'Leary, Analy road district | 108 05 |
| D. W. Long, Vallejo road district | 80 00 |
| W. F. Harris, Washington road district | 130 97 |
| C. Rosenborough, Cloverdale road district | 160 30 |
| Ex-Road Overseer G. W. Burris | 18 70 |
| C. Parkerson, Mendocino road district | 243 27 |
| T. Riley, Knight's Valley road district | 189 50 |
| Thomas Furlong, Bodega road district | 461 85 |
| Victor Dorand, Salt Point road district | 459 87 |
| A. J. Packwood, Russian River road district | 286 87 |
| C. Y. Caldwell, Santa Rosa road district | 254 63 |
| Ben Clark, ex-Overseer Russian River district | 8 00 |

On motion of Mr. Coulter, the petition for the reorganization of the supposed lapsed Burnside school district was indefinitely postponed, the Superintendent of Schools having informed the Board, through Mr. Coulter, that said district had not lapsed.

In pursance with an order of the Board, citing A. L. Hodge to appear and show cause why certain gates on the road leading from Santa Rosa to the Mark West and Calistoga roads over his lands, should not be removed as petitioned for, T. J. Geary appeared before the Board on behalf of Mr. Hodge. Mr. Geary claimed that the Board was attempting to legislate in a matter over which it had no jurisdiction; that the road had never been legally declared a public highway and consequently the Board has no authority to order the removal of any gate which Mr. Hodge may place across the road. He further stated that if the Board made an order for the removal of the gates and precipitates a litigation, the road would be closed. Mr. Coulter was of the opinion that the Board had jurisdiction in the matter inasmuch as the road had been regularly petitioned for and legally declared a public highway. There was considerable discussion on the matter which culminated in the further consideration of the same being postponed until Monday, April 4th, at 2 P. M.

In the matter of complaints made about parties taking and carrying sand and gravel away from the various road districts, to the great detriment of the same, Mr. Allen moved that hereafter all parties are prohibited from taking and carrying gravel away from any of the road districts without a written permit from the Road Overseer of the district. So ordered.

A petition from George E. Smithers for a private road over the lands of Mrs. Buchi, in Santa Rosa road district, was considered, and, on motion of Mr. Coulter, County Surveyor P. R. Davis, John Lambert and E. A. Rodgers were apointed to view the proposed road and report to the Board, in accordance with the requirments of Sections 2685-6 of the Political Code.

Mrs. F. McG. Martin appeared before the Board and formally announced a vacancy in the Board of Education caused by the death of George P. Anderson. On motion of Mr. Allen, C. W. Grove of Cloverdale, was elected to fill the vacancy.

At 5 P. M. the Board adjourned until Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock.

Our Wealthy Men.

Much has been said in newspapers of men who have made large fortunes in comparatively a few years in various business industries. Many of these articles are written by correspondents of preminent newspapers, and copied into others of lesser note. Correspondents generally are seldom men of business qualifications and wrongfully picture these men and their business as a thing of accident; this is not the case with those we have met. We find that where men have made large fortunes by their own business talent and industry they chose with sagacity and forethought such business as would lead to success when handled with business judgment. No man has been brought before the public as an example of success both in wealth and the magnitude of his business (outside of stock and railroad men) more prominently than Dr. G. G. Green of Woodbury, N. J. He is at the head of many large business industries, and yet comparatively a young man. When the fact that August Flower, for dyspepsia and liver complaint and Boschee's German Syrup for coughs and lung troubles, has grown to a wonderful sale in all parts of the world it proves that it was not an accident or spontaneous strike at wealth. His medicines are recognized as valuable and established remedies and the business has grown gradually and permanently during the last eighteen years on account not alone of Dr. Green's abilities as a business man or his "good luck," but on the actual merits of the two perparations.—Copied from the N. Y. Weekly Sun, of Dec. 22, 1886.

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used BOCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Peumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 80,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the GERMAN SYRUP cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample bottles to try, sold at 10 cents, Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in the United States and Canada.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Price $1; six bottles, $5.

I do not believe that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has an equal as a cure for Scrofulous Humors. It is pleasant to take, gives strength to the body, and produces a more permanent result than any medicine I ever used. —E. Haines, North Lindale, Ohio.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. —W. F. Fowler, M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

For forty years I have suffered with Erysipelas. I have tried various remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured. —M. C. Amesbury, Rockport, Me.

I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After trying other remedies, without relief, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in a few months, was cured. —Susan L. Cook, 909 Albany st., Boston, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is superior to any blood purifier that I ever tried. I have taken it for Scrofula, Canker, and Salt-Rheum, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for a weak stomach. —Millie Jane Peirce, S. Bradford, Mass. ††

Men of Thought.

A young assistant of chemistry in the Boston Institute of Technology happened some years ago to be in the northern peninsula of Michigan. While there he observed that the Portage River and Lake Linden were of a peculiar copper color, and, when he asked the cause, was told that it was copper that escaped from the smelting and stamping mills of the Calumet and Hecla mines. The young teacher put on his thinking cap, and then requested the company to allow him to experiment, with a view of saving this copper. The company was only too glad to offer facilities. So the young man gave up his summer vacation and set to work, and was able to devise a method by which about 4 per cent of the copper mined was saved, and almost pure copper, too. The young professor no longer earns a trifling salary, but has acquired a comfortable income by his summer's vacation.

Some years ago, a mechanic near New Haven, Conn., was riding in a railway train, and was jolted and jarred as in the early days of railway travel passengers were apt to be. He didn't fret and fume as the other passengers did, but began to study and experiment, with a view to making a spring that would reduced the jolting to a minimum. He at last succeeded, and his spring was adopted by every railroad in the country. He is no longer a poor mechanic. His name is Carlos French, and he now holds a seat in Congress from the New Haven district.

There died, a few years ago, in Waterbury, a man who began life in the narrowest circumstances. He learned the trade of a machinist, and he gave his whole soul to his trade. By and by he startled wire manufacturers by producing a cold reducing machine, by which wire was drawn cold. Seeing one day a woman fretting because she had pricked her finger with a pin, he was set to thinking and in a week had devised the valuable safety pin. His name was E. J. Manville. He died a rich man.

If we take the railway business in all its branches, we shall find that in every one of them the men who are now at the head, and who are getting large salaries and are making money, began life without a cent, except in a very few instances. Thirty odd years ago a rosy-cheeked young man ran one of the engines on the New York and New Haven road. He spent every moment of his spare time in studying mechanical engineering and surveying. Soon his suggestions respecting the building of engines, and also respecting the construction and building department of that road became so valuable that his services were recognized by promotion. He became assistant superintendent, then general superintendent of the whole system, and is now vice-president and director, and has control of the entire mechanical department of the road. This is E. M. Reed, and when he sees a discontented engineer, he says to him that the opportunities for advancement today are just as great, probably greater, than they were thirty odd years ago, when he fired on the road. Another superintendent, C. N. Davidson of the Hartford division, years ago stood at the footboard, and secured his promotion because he made his services so valuable that the company could not do else than appoint him to responsible places. The general superintendent of the great Wabash system some years ago was a common telegraph operator in Delphi, Ind., earning barely enough to pay his board and clothing. But he made a study of the railroad business as opportunity presented in that obscure town. By and by the opportunity came for making a suggestion to the managers. It was a good one. Railway managers are constantly on the lookout for men who show their competency. No men in the world are quicker to recognize and reward fidelity and ability. This operator was promoted to a more responsible post. Here his whole time was given to mastering his duties and bettering the service. So he was promoted again and again, until a year ago he was made the general superintendent of the vast system, and with a salary commensurate with his responsible duties. His name is Wade.

Spring rapidly approaches, and it is important that every one should be prepared for the depressing effects of the changing season. This is the time to purify the blood and strengthen the system by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla which stands unequalled as a spring medicine and has endorsements of a character seldom given any proprietary medicine. A book containing statements of the many wonderful cures it has accomplished will be sent upon application to C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass. Sold by all druggists. 100 doses one dollar.

POISON IN THE ASHES

What the Mt. Lebanon Shakers Found—Incident in the History of a Quiet Community.

The Mount Lebanon (New York) Shakers are a quiet community, secluded from the fret and worry of the outside world. They are widely known, however, for their strict honor and probity in business.

The Shakers believe that nature has a remedy for every disease. A few have been found—the rest are as yet unknown. Many were discovered by accident. Others came to light as the result of patient experiment and research.

Nervous Dyspepsia is a comparatively new disease, growing out of the conditions of modern life. It is a joint affection of the digestive organs and of the nervous system. These two were formerly treated as separate ailments, and it was left for the clear-sighted Shakers to prove that the basis of this terrible and often fatal complication lies chiefly in the disordered and depraved functions of digestion and nutrition. They reasoned thus:—"If we can induce the stomach to do its work, and stimulate the excretive organs to drive out of the body the poisonous waste matters which remain after the life-giving elements of the food have been absorbed, we shall have conquered Nervous Dyspepsia and Nervous Exhaustion. And they were right. Knowing the infallible power of Shaker Extract (Seigel's Syrup) in less complicated though similar diseases, they resolved to test it fully in this. To leave no ground for doubt they prescribed the remedy in hundreds of cases which had been pronounced incurable—with perfect success in every instance where their directions as to living and diet were scrupulously followed. Nervous Dyspepsia and Exhaustion is a peculiarly American disease. To a greater or less extent half the people of this country suffer from it—both sexes and all ages. In no country in the world are there so many insane asylums filled to overflowing, all resulting from this alarming disease. Its leading symptoms are these: Frequent or continual headache; a dull pain at the base of the brain; bad breath; nauseous eructations; the rising of sour and pungent fluids to the throat; a sense of oppression and faintness at the pit of the stomach; flatulence; wakefulness and loss of sleep; disgust with food even when weak from the need of it; sticky or slimy matter on the teeth or in the mouth, especially on rising in the morning; furred and coated tongue; dull eyes; cold hands and feet; constipation; dry or rough skin; inability to fix the mind on any labor calling for continuous attention; and oppressive and sad forebodings and fears.

All this terrible group Shaker Extract (Seigel's Syrup) removes by its positive, powerful, direct yet painless and gentle action upon the functions of digestion and assimilation. Those elements of the food that build up and strengthen the system are sent upon their mission, while all waste matters (the ashes of life's fire) which unremoved, poison and kill, are expelled from the body through the bowels, kidneys and skin. The weak and prostrated nerves are quieted, toned and fed by the purified blood. As the result, health, with its enjoyments, blessings and power, returns to the sufferer who had, perhaps, abandoned all hope of ever seeing another well day.

TRIED IN THE CRUCIBLE.

S.S.S.

About twenty years ago I discovered a little sore on my cheek, and the doctors pronounced it cancer. I have tried a number of physicians, but without receiving any permanent benefit. Among the number were one or two specialists. The medicine they applied was like fire to the sore, causing intense pain. I saw a statement in the papers telling what S. S. S. had done for others similarly afflicted. I procured some at once. Before I had used the second bottle the neighbors could notice that my cancer was healing up. My general health had been bad for two or three years—I had a hacking cough and spit blood continually. I had a severe pain in my breast. After taking six bottles of S. S. S. my cough left me and I grew stouter than I had been for several years. My cancer has healed over all but a little spot about the size of a half dime, and it is rapidly disappearing. I would advise every one with cancer to give S. S. S. a fair trial.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE COUNTY of Sonoma, State of California. Probate.

In the matter of the Estate of R. A. McDONELL, deceased.

Order to show cause why order of sale of Real Estate should not be made.

MAGGIE McDONELL, Administratrix of the Estate of the said R. A. McDONELL, deceased, having filed her petition herein, as such Administratrix, duly verified, praying for an order of sale of all the real estate of said decedent, for the purposes therein set forth, and asking authority to sell the same at public auction or private sale, as she may think for the best interests of the estate,

It is therefore ordered by the said Court that all persons interested in the estate of said deceased appear before the said Superior Court on MONDAY, the 18th day of March, 1887, at 10 o'clock, A. M., of said day, at the Court-room of said Superior Court, at the Court House, in the city of Santa Rosa, County of Sonoma, State of California, to show cause why an order should not be granted to the said Administratrix Maggie McDonell, to sell so much of the real estate of the said deceased, R. A. McDONELL, as shall be necessary as prayed for.

And that a copy of this order be published at least once a week for four successive weeks in THE SONOMA INDEX-TRIBUNE, a newspaper printed and published in said Sonoma county.

JNO. G. PRESSLEY,
Judge of the Superior Court.

AGENTS WANTED for the MISSOURI STEAM Washer

Active, honest persons all over the country, with or without team.

JOHN C. EVANS, STOUTSBURG, MO., writes: "I stand up and affirm that a Washer never were hard labor and money in a large family than any Reaper and Mower that ever was put on any farm with less than 100 acres to cultivation. If you will get up any instrument that will take as much labor off of me as this Washer takes of the women, and save as much money as it does and cost no more, I could sell one at every house. If they had to take the feathers from under their wife and babies to pay for it."

JOHN S. DODGE, JR., Jeweler, NORMAL, ILL., writes: "You ask what I think of the Washer I bought last summer. 1st. It is the best washing ever invented by man. 2d. We have just as good dinners on Monday as on any other day. 3d. If you run short, you can not buy ours for $1000."

I will ship a sample to those desiring an agency on a week's trial on liberal terms. A thousand per cent the best washer in the world for saving labor, clothes and soap. Pays capable agents big money. Write for particulars.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

CURES ALL HUMORS,

from a common Blotch, or Eruption, to the worst Scrofula. Salt-rheum, "Fever-sores," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-Joint Disease, White Swellings, Goitre, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. Send ten cents in stamps for a large treatise, with colored plates, on Skin Diseases, or the same amount for a treatise on Scrofulous Affections. "THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE." Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution, will be established.

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofulous Disease of the Lungs, is promptly and certainly arrested and cured by this God-given remedy, if taken before the last stages of the disease are reached. From its wonderful power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now celebrated remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "Consumption Cure," but abandoned that name as too limited for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for consumption of the lungs, but for all
